A Warning to Democratic Leaders

There is a lesson in the history of parties in this country, which the opponents of the war will heed, if they act wisely. It is written so plainly that it admits of no doubt. No party ever opposed a war, while it existed, without bringing defeat upon itself. The war may have been unjust and have been entered upon in defiance of public sentiment, but from the hour that the Government takes up the sword, the honor of the nation becomes involved in the struggle, and the people always support the Government. They forget the mistakes of their rulers, they forgot their political differences, creed, and only recognize the fact that the credit of the country, or a military power, is at stake. They see nothing in the conflict but the national flag, and they rally around it, because it is the token and the sign of all that makes life and honor valuable. Being patriotic themselves, they will not tolerate even the seeming lack of fidelity in their leaders. If any fail to prove themselves sound on the great vital issue, they are at once repudiated and fall to rise no more. So it has been—so it ever will be. The people will cling to the national banner and support it, full high advanced, whenever it is assailed, or danger comes near to it, whether from foreign or domestic foes, and they will discard without hesitation all those as political leaders—no matter what the strength of their former position may have been—who oppose the onward march of the nation to victory, or by their speech or action impair public confidence in the Government. The hot and swift lightnings of popular vengeance will be sure to strike and blast and burn all who thus act, and give aid and comfort to the nation's enemies.

WHAT IS LOYALTY?—The Solicitor of the War Department has answered this question in the following manner: the reply affects all who desire to make contracts with the Government, and forcibly explains what with some people, seems to have been a matter of doubt:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON CITY, February 25, 1864

[illegible] to the question submitted to [illegible] to be given to the oath of allegiance as proof of loyalty, I beg leave to submit the following opinion

[illegible] oaths of loyalty" is not "giving conclusive [illegible] loyalty." The obligations of an oath [illegible] may not be deemed binding by those who assume them. Oaths of allegiance to the United States and oaths of office under the Constitution, have been deliberately violated by most of the military, civil and judicial officers now in the service of the Rebellion.

But the taking of an oath is one circumstance entitled to consideration in weighing the proofs of loyalty exhibited by the applicant. On the other hand, his pecuniary interest is to be regarded, as well as all the facts and circumstances tending to show whether he really, and bona fide intends to support the Government of the United States and to aid as a loyal citizen in suppressing the rebellion. His previous conduct must be examined, the motives, the real intent of the applicant should be searched out; if that intent is "not to sustain the Union" and "not to oppose the rebels," in other words, if his intent is not proved to be loyal, all oaths professions or appearances of loyalty are to be deemed as false pretences.

While loyalty is disproved or doubtful, no payment for property taken as stated should be made.

I have the honor to be, your obedient servant,
WILLIAM WHITING,
Solicitor of the War Department.

HON EDWIN M STANTON
Secretary of War.

Approved,
By Order of the Secretary of War
ED R S CANBY,
Brig Gen A A G,

WHAT A HEN EATS.—We were this morning shown a part of the contents of the gizzard of a hen, which was killed here in town yesterday. It consisted of a brass watch key, a brass headed nail, five pieces of brass buttons, four pieces of brass wire, each from three fourths of an inch to two inches in length, and six pieces of flint glass, each about the size of a bit. The process of digestion of this hard mass appears to have been begun. The ends and the sharp corners of the pieces of brass had become smooth and more strange still, the sharp corners of the pieces of glass had become rounded, and the whole outer surface of the several pieces present the appearance of having been ground. The hen was evidently preparing this Spring to lay a litter of hard shell eggs.—Gold Hill News.

News from the Crooked River Expedition—A Fight!

CAMP SEPARATION Oregon,
May 20th, 1864

EDITOR OREGONIAN

I have barely time before the express starts to pen you the following items concerning

CAPT DRAKE'S COMMAND

This command consists of Co D, Co G, and a portion of Co B, of the 1st Cavalry, Oregon Volunteers. Accompanying the troops are about twenty five Indians (from the Warm Spring Reservation) as guides and scouts. The command marched from the Dalles on the 20th of April, and arrived at this point on the 18th of May. The route traveled is thus far almost directly up the course of the Crooked River or crossing that stream frequently and is a part of what is known as Joe Meek's Cut off.

CAMP SEPARATION

Where we are now encamped, was so named in consequence of its having been the point at which the commands of Major Steen and Capt. Smith, of the 1st Dragoons separated when they marched through this country three or four years ago. I should judge it to be about 180 miles from the Dalles upon the wagon road (Meek's Cut off). This camp is three miles from the river, up a little canyon, at the head of which there is a heavy forest of [illegible] and numerous clear cold mountain springs. Here Captain Drake will establish his depot of supplies for his summer's campaign. It is on the whole rather romantic and pretty spot and very capable of being made safe as far as Indians are concerned. It will hereafter be called Camp Maury, and will not be soon forgotten by any of this command, for yesterday in solemn procession we carried to their last resting place three of our comrades and fired over their new made graves the tribute due to the bodies of those who die in the service of their country but not here or elsewhere shall we cease to pay tribute of praise to their noble spirits.

THE INDIAN FIGHT

"On getting into camp on the 17th inst., some fresh Indian signs having been seen during that day's march, the Indians who accompanied us from the Warm Springs went out upon a scout and towards dark two of them came back to report a party of Snakes encamped some 12 or 14 miles ahead in a small valley, that there were some [illegible] lodges or more and a large band of horses. Lieuts McCall and Watson were placed in command of a detail of 35 men to march at 10 p m., and surround the wigwams, and surprise the Snakes at daylight. Arrived at the Snake camp, they waited until dawn when it was found that the enemy was not as accessible as had been represented and it was thought best to divide the command and charge both ends of the encampment at once. In attempting to do so it was clearly developed that the Snakes were not taken at all by surprise, but that they were almost impregnably entrenched in a natural fortification of rocks, and although in the first part of the charge the Snakes appeared to be falling back and panic stricken, yet as the soldier's fire was becoming exhausted, they rallied and fought like devils from behind the rocks. Lieut. Watson was still advancing with his party when he was shot down. He appeared to have been killed instantly. Nearly about the same time two other men were killed and five wounded of the troops and one citizen wounded, one Indian (friendly) killed and two wounded, making a total loss of four killed and eight wounded. Lieut. McCall then drew the troops off a short distance and sent a courier to our camp and Co G was immediately dispatched to his aid but when they arrived the enemy had flown, leaving all of his household goods and other property to fall into the soldiers' hands. The Warm Spring Indians in the mean time had driven off the band of horses. So after setting fire to the wigwams and heaping on bushels of Indian muckamuck and other totas of every description, we came sadly away bringing with us our dead and wounded. The Indian loss in this short fight must have been considerable as many were seen to fall and the rocks were covered with blood where they were entrenched. They left but one of their dead upon the field and him they had partly concealed with old hides.

The killed are Lieut. Stephen Watson, Co B 1st Cav Ogn Vol, privates James Harkinson and —— Kennedy, of Co B, 1st Ogn Cav, and an Indian whose name is not known to me. The wounded are as follows: Corporal R Dougherty, slightly in the shoulder with an arrow; private Geo Fremish, slightly in the chest with an arrow; Jas Weeks, slightly in the wrist with an arrow; John Level, slightly in the side with an arrow; Wm Henline, seriously in the shoulder with a bullet, all of Co B. Mr Richard Barker, (citizen) seriously with a bullet in the thigh, fracturing the bone. Stock Whitley a well known Indian, seriously in three or four places with bullets, one of which entered just under his ear and came out of his mouth carrying away two teeth another fracturing his collar bone and others made flesh wounds in his back and arms; still another Indian received a slight bullet wound and this completes the sad list of casualties. Old Stock Whitley showed himself a brave man on the battle ground, and, though almost shot to pieces walked off to where he could receive assistance, like an old grizzly. The surgeon pronounces all of the wounded men to be out of danger. Poor Watson's last words were, "Pour it into them, boys."

After the funeral, yesterday, we were conversing upon the sad duty we had just performed, and it was remarked that though public opinion did not so vote, it was just as deserving of praise to die here in the discharge of one's duty, as it would have been to fall at Chickamauga or Gettysburg. One of the men, acting upon this hint, wrote the enclosed verses, which you can publish in connection with this letter should you think them worthy.

Very respectfully yours,
HYAS CULTUS

Out upon those who would scoff at
The dangers of Indian warfare,
Who think that the dead and the wounded
Alone of great armies in conflict
Are worthy of praise and of honor,
Who think that the savage encountered
Where the rocks and the woods and the mountains,
The desert and the breath of the country,
And the craft that he only possesseth,
Are ever his shield and protection,
His moat and his mine and his castle,
His chevaux de frise and his bastions.
Who think him with all these a foeman
Ignoble and easily conquered.
Who sneer at the scars of the soldiers
Who spite of all these have met him
And set up their courage against his
Who have ventured their lives, may have lost them,
That their fellow men might unmolested
Each under his vine and his fig tree
Sit down to his own avocation,
That the desert might bloom as a garden,
And the earth yield up its hid treasures;
Who but for the sake of their duty
Have hunger and thirst and the hardships
Of travel and weather encountered.

All honor say I to the noble
All honor say I to the gallant,
All honor say I to the heroes
Be they heroes of hell or of battle,
Be they wounded or slain by the savage,
Be they weary of strife or of travel

Oh ye who sit home at hearthstones
Be just when ye speak of these subjects,
And think it no trifling matter
To lay down and die without thanking,
To languish in pain without honor,
And all for the sake of one duty
To his fellows and civilization!

Where they fall let the mountains remember!
Where they bleed let the turf be more green!
Where they lie in the last sleep of mortals
Let the proofs of their prowess be seen
Let cities and towns and rich gardens
And the blessings of civilized life
Be monuments unto their honor!
And show not in vain was their strife

BALLOTS FOR THE SANITARY COMMISSION.—"We would suggest to the friends of this noble Commission in Jackson county, and throughout the State that at the ensuing June election, there be prepared and placed at the polls, a box, into which ballots in the shape of five, ten and twenty dollar pieces or legal tender notes, be deposited for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers. The box could be placed in the charge of some suitable person who could call attention to the matter, and register the names and amounts contributed, and act as treasurer to forward the same to Mr Holbrook. We would also then see which political party possessed the most humanity and patriotism. To more effectually impress the matter on the people let large posters be placed about the voting place, calling attention to the matter in some appropriate and eloquent words. What say ye of the loyal press?"

We say, just the thing. Our armies are now achieving glorious victories. They are pushing the enemy to the last ditch. The sacrifice has been and will continue to be great. The users of wounded soldiers are to be cared for. To contribute of our abundance for their relief, is a duty, let us esteem it a privilege. Let them feel that Oregon is not so far away that she forgets, at the least the sufferings of the gallant defenders of our common country. We hope that in every precinct this matter will be attended to, and that an offering will accompany the news of our Union triumph, that will carry "aid and comfort" to many a sick and wounded soldier.—Albany Journal.

Rebels Bury their Dead under a Flag of Truce.

FORTRESS MONROE May 21.—The steamer Powell, Butler's dispatch boat, has arrived and reports everything quiet since Saturday night. From all accounts it appears that the rebels have suffered severe punishment in their attempts at night surprise. They have buried their dead under a flag of truce. [illegible] 400 wounded have been brought down James river since the army landed.

NASHVILLE May [illegible].—The Journal is advised that Gen John H Morgan at the head of 5000 or 6000 cavalry at Abingdon, Va, contemplates an immediate raid in Kentucky via Pound Gap. Our forces are ready to give him a warm reception.

NEW YORK May 2[illegible].—Gov Seymour's letter to District Attorney Hall, in relation to the seizure of the World and Journal of Commerce says It is charged that these acts of violence were done without due legal process and without sanction of the State or Nation. If so the offenders must be punished. If the owners of the above named journals, as it is charged, have violated State and National laws they must be proceeded against and punished by these laws. Any action against them outside of legal proceedings is criminal.

The Governor argues matters at some length and concludes thus: In making your inquiries and in prosecuting parties implicated you will call upon Sheriff of the county or the heads of the police department for any needed force and assistance, and a failure to give this, by any official under my control will be deemed sufficient cause for removal.

Advices from the headquarters of the army of the Potomac dated the 22d, says the army under Hancock arrived at Milford yesterday and met a force of the enemy said to be 15,000 strong, drove them through town and pursuing them some distance. Our loss unknown.

An attack was made on our headquarter train near Guineas Station yesterday evening. The rebels were repulsed. Some prisoners were taken.

A dispatch dated headquarters Army of the Potomac, May 22 10 o'clock P M, says

Hancock is seven miles south of Bowling Green, and occupies the bridge over Mattapony river. Our cavalry had a good deal of fighting and drove the enemy all the time. Our position is deemed important and Richmond is considered in greater danger than ever before.

The War Department has received a dispatch from Grant dated 11 o'clock on Monday night which states that the army had moved from its position on North Anna, following Lee's army closely. The 5th and 6th corps marched by the way of Harris Store and Jennick's ford. After effecting a crossing, the 5th corps got into position without much opposition shortly however, they were violently attacked and they handsomely repulsed the assault without much loss to us. We captured some prisoners, everything looks favorable.

Another dispatch giving the details of the movements of our corps and speaking of the rebel assault on Warren's position, says he was attacked with great vehemence. I have never heard more rapid firing either of artillery or musketry. The attack resulted in a destructive repulse of the enemy, as the position attacked by Hancock the rebels were entrenched and a considerable force was between the Creek. He had crossed the river and they made a pertinacious resistance to his outset. Before dark he had forced them from their works, driven them across the stream. It is said in the engagements the slaughter of enemy was great, while our loss is inconsiderable. The rebels charged against our artillery and suffered greatly, especially from [illegible].

A dispatch from Grant, dated 8 o'clock this morning just received, states that the enemy is falling back, and our troops are in pursuit.

Negroes who come in say that Lee is falling back on Richmond.

Other official dispatches from Headquarters say that Warren, Burnside and Hancock are pushing forward after the retreating enemy.

Gen Warren captured a large number of prisoners last evening but had not had time to count them or ascertain his loss.

Gen Hancock, while storming the rifle pits on this side of the river, last evening, took between 1,100 and 1,200 prisoners, and drove many rebels into the river, where they were drowned.

Warren also captured some official papers, among these papers was an official order calling out boys 15 years of age to garrison Richmond. Ambulance men and musicians were also ordered to fall in to the ranks.

Sheridan, this morning, was at Dunkirk, and will be at Milford to night.

No dispatches have been received to day from Sherman. None are expected for several days.

Dispatches were received to day from Butler, relating briefly to the respective forces.

A telegram from Admiral Foote to the Secretary of the Navy, dated May 22, states that last night and Saturday night the enemy attacked our army and were handsomely repulsed.

A dispatch from Gen Canby, dated May 18th, at the mouth of Red River, states that Gen Banks' troops reached Morgan to day, in better condition than had been expected, and will be ready to assume offensive operations soon.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Additional private advices were received to day to April 28th per steamship Moses Taylor.

The Spanish still occupy the Chincha Islands. The Peruvian Government has authorized the raising of a loan of $50,000,000, and an increase of the army to 30,000 men, and the navy to 20 vessels. Batteries are being placed at every available point about Callao. The American, British, Chilian and Bolivian Ministers at Lima met and expressed sympathy with the Peruvian cause, and resolved to petition their respective governments for intervention.

On capturing Chinchas, the Spaniards released 160 convicts placing them on the Panama Steamship Company's steamer Guayaquil for transportation to Callao. The convicts rose and captured the vessel, but left quietly at Cerreso a Sud.

Spanish Admiral Pen soon issued a proclamation, stating as reasons for the seizure, the evident preparation of the Peruvian government to resist the just exigencies of Spain. Therefore they will hold the Chincha Islands as mortgage for amounts advanced by foreign subjects to pay for said guano, also, that all foreign companies can continue shipping guano by rendering accounts thereof to the Spanish authorities.

The Peruvians Minister of Foreign Affairs returned a spirited answer, proclaiming that Peru will submit to nothing.

LATEST FROM THE KOOTENAI.—On Saturday morning last Messrs Howard and Firestine arrived here from the Kootenai country. The news from there is as follows:

A company of nine men (they among the number) left Walla Walla on the 29th of February, having about twenty five animals including saddle horses and were forty days reaching the mines. They remained and prospected around the main encampment about seven days, when they went out sixty miles above, northeast to a creek called Tobey Creek and remained prospecting in the bars for about ten days. While at Tobey Creek they visited a creek name unknown about forty miles below where good prospects were got—the color being obtained every pan, and as high as $2 00 was found out in a short time. They then returned to the main encampment, which was on a wild creek that empties into the Kootenai coming in from a northeasterly direction and heading in the Rocky Mountains.

The ground was frozen, and prospecting as well as mining, was materially retarded but they found gold on a good many different streams. The gold resembles that of Yuba river, California being coarse, although of great fineness. The largest piece they saw weighed $20 and other pieces were plenty, ranging from $ to $5.

As their provisions were short the company sent these gentlemen to this place for supplies, seven of the party remaining to prospect more fully.

Messrs Howard and Firestine were eighteen days coming from the mines to this place. They report the trail in good condition, with a wagon road to Pend d'Oreille Lakes, thence there is a plain blazed trail direct to the mines.

They make the distance from Lewiston, via Spokane river and Pend d'Oreille Lakes to the main encampment about 380 to 400 miles. The mines are about 70 miles east of Tobacco Plains. They traveled over a large extent of country being already [illegible] gold found for a distance of over sixty miles.

These gentlemen are of the opinion that the principal mining will be done in the hills, but at present the hills have not been prospected owing to the snow and the ground being frozen. The creeks and rivers in the mines were high and work was nearly suspended at the time they left although they think that the water has receded by this time, so that the miners are now in the beds of the streams.

These gentlemen spent of the trail from Walla Walla until it interests the trail from this place as being very rocky and without good water, and say it is the hardest part of the trip. They also express it as their opinion that the trail from Lewiston is from 80 to 100 miles nearer, besides being well supplied with wood, water and grass, and is entirely free from rocky road.

There were about 200 people in the mines, and more constantly arriving.—Golden Age Extra, May 2d.

MORTALITY AMONG UNION PRISONERS.—If some arrangement for the exchange of prisoners is not speedily effected the Confederacy will derive but little benefit from it. A few days ago while the cars were at Andersonville the editor learned that the mortality among the Yankee prisoners at that point was frightful. One of the guard informed him that fifty two died on the previous day, and that since their arrival the average of deaths per day was but five. Smallpox pneumonia and diarrhea are taking hem off by wholesale. The cartel takes no account of dead men and hence we trust that the exchange may be resumed before the ranks of these eight thousand prisoners are much further depleted.—Columbus, Ga, Enquirer.

Mr. R. Hockaday stated that he was induced to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs from the recommendation of others. He gave it to a child eleven months old, also used it in his family generally for coughs and colds, and in every instance found immediate relief and that he would not be without it. Mr. J. B. Miller states that he used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs with great benefit to himself. He was entirely relieved of a severe cough. His neighbor was bleeding at the Lungs, to whom he administered a part of one bottle and it entirely cured him. Mr. John Davis was cured of a severe cough and also gave it to his infant child for the whooping cough and says it is the medicine of medicines. Mr. James N. Harden of Rock Castle wished it proclaimed everywhere that his daughter, aged sixteen years, was severely afflicted with cough and bleeding at the Lungs for seven months. She was cured sound and well by using part of one bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Mr. Wm. Harden testifies that his wife was greatly afflicted with cough and suffering, much with pain in her breast and side; also her little daughter aged two years, had so greatly suffered with phthisic that her life was despaired of. Both mother and daughter found immediate relief in using Dr. Wm Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. These are a few of the many testimonials I have received in favor of your great Lung Remedy and if you desire I can send many more which have come to my knowledge. Respectfully yours I D SMITH, Richmond Ky, July 10, 1856. Sold by REDINGTON & CO 416 and 418 Front street San Francisco who are also agents for the Pacific Coast for the sale of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, and we would direct the attention of those who suffer from scrofula, eruptions or any other impurity of the blood to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, as it will cleanse the blood and permanently eradicate from the system the cause of the disease, thereby restoring health and vivacity to the system. Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is compounded upon scientific principles and with great care. We do not pretend it is a cure all, nor that in all cases and under all circumstances it is absolutely infallible. Common sense teaches us that the day of Miracles has passed, but science and facts remain and on the strength of these we call attention to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. The noble science of medicine is controlled by the same powers which govern the entire world. Were the invalid patients simply to take this medicine for short time in cases of goitre, syphilitic or scrofulous tumors, ulceration of the bones, etc., no doubt they would receive from it but very little good, for unless persevered in the money expended for it is comparatively thrown away, nobody is benefited and the reputation obtained by the [illegible] this medicine is [illegible]. The action of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is through the secretions of the [illegible] taking [illegible] of the natural substances known as virus or poisonous principles, and removing them from the [illegible] parts to which the secretions [illegible] and at the same time good blood is transported through the vessels to the [illegible]. Sold by REDINGTON & CO Agents 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco and for sale by all Druggists. my8 1m IMPROVEMENT [illegible]—The city street Commissioner [illegible] a good wor[illegible] on First street [illegible] of Oak, in compliance with [illegible] of the Common Council [illegible] in paving the street, on the [illegible] graded, around one of the fire [illegible] cost of which, a[illegible] we underst[illegible] be made a basis for paving on [illegible] the opinion seems to be that the present job is no a fair test, a[illegible] much extra [illegible] be done, in the way of construct[illegible] necessary at the corners. There are [illegible] portions of First street that are just now receiving attentions much deserved.

COST OF A FAUCET.—Two persons in this city are having over a faucet. The dispute originated about the ownership, and if we are correctly informed could have been settled for one dollar, before the litigation commenced but the suit has already run up a large bil[illegible] and is in a fair way to make the faucet cos[illegible] somebody about one hundred dollars.

A NEW ROAD.—The convicts from the Penitentiary have been at work for some time under a contract from Mr. Anderson, in grading a new road to the summit of Robinson'[illegible] Hill, south of the city. The work is progressing rapidly, and when completed will be much more accessable than the present route over that mountain.

POSITIVELY FALSE.—A cotemporary understands that "the small pox prevails to an alarming extent in Portland." As we stated a few days since there is not one case of the small pox in Portland, nor has there been, this season. The health of Portland was never known to be better that at present.

LADIES' SANITARY AID SOCIETY.—There will be a special business meeting of the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society at the house of Mrs D W Williams, 174 Second street, this morning at 10 o clock.

TREASURE.—The amount of treasure receiv[illegible] ed from the mining regions for the past two days, through the medium of Wells Fargo & Co's Express, reached the sum of $60,000.

NO MEETING.—There being but two members of the Common Council present last evening, the usual meeting of the Board was laid over for this week.

Tableaux Vivants.—Willamette Theatre was crowded to its utmost last evening, and the large audience appeared perfectly delighted with the living pictures, and excellent music and singing. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained at the box-office of the Theatre, between 10 and 12 o'clock, and 2 and 4 o'clock to-day.

Sale of the Leviathan.—Captain Hoyt yesterday disposed of the steamer Leviathan to Mr. W. Herbert Evans, as agent for Gov. Douglas, and she will be taken to Victoria for a pleasure boat. The Leviathan is probably the greatest LITTLE boat that ever made a wake in the Willamette, and now that she is about to leave us, a slight account of her may not be uninteresting. She was built in China, and was originally a sloop used in the opium trade. She was brought to San Francisco, remodeled, and made a propeller, for use on the Bay. During the Frazer river excitement she was taken to Victoria on the deck of the Panama, after which she returned by sea to the Columbia river, where she was employed for some time between Baker's Bay and Astoria. When she passed into the hands of Captain Hoyt he fitted her up very nicely, and she has done considerable service as a pleasure craft, and in towing. The Leviathan is 52 feet long, 11 feet wide, and draws 3 feet and 10 inches of water; the propeller is 3 feet 6 inches in diameter and 8 feet pitch, with power to drive it 155 revolutions a minute. The average speed of the Leviathan is ten knots an hour.

A Prospecting Party.—A few days since a party of gentlemen fitted out a small boat with provisions and tools, and started from the foot of Morrison street in this city, on a "prospecting" tour for pitch. Their mission will no doubt be fulfilled, as we judge trees are by no means scarce to be found that yield abundantly. The fitting out of such parties is important, as showing the commencement of a business, the opening of which will open a new branch of industry in Portland, and one which promises to give us an abundance of a good article for export. During the past week about 10,000 gallons of pitch have been received in this city, to be manufactured into turpentine, tar, rosin, etc., which will be followed by amounts ten times greater, as our vast forests are entered and made to yield their riches. Our firs are not in isolated patches, nor far from convenient landings, and the transportation of pitch to market may always be readily accomplished, and we cannot doubt that some day the trade will become a leading feature of our commerce, from the fact that it can be consumed, in manufacturing, as well and as cheaply in Portland, as at any other point on the coast.

Taking Ballast.—The bark Monitor, Capt. Nelson, finished discharging coal at the Gas Company's wharf yesterday, and was pulled down the river to take on a few tons of gravel for ballast, that will enable her to go to West Mills to-day, in tow of the steamer Express, and load with piles for San Francisco. Capt. Nelson is a very obliging officer, and we are sorry to see him returning to San Francisco with a sand ballast in his vessel. The Monitor was chartered for a trip to Oregon, in the busy time this season, when there was not an Oregon packet to send here. She has made a trip to Nanaimo, for coal for parties in this city, and will now return to her accustomed trade. She is a neat craft, built in San Francisco, of Oregon timber, and is, we believe, the first vessel made of our own material, that ever came to Portland.

Improvements on First Street.—The city street Commissioner is doing some good work on First street, at the junction of Oak, in compliance with a resolution of the Common Council. The work consists in paving the street, on the established grade, around one of the fire cisterns, the cost of which, as we understand it, was to be made a basis for paving on other streets, but the opinion seems to be that the present job is not a fair test, as much extra work has to be done, in the way of constructing gutters, etc., necessary at the corners. There are other portions of First street that are just now receiving attentions much deserved.

Cost of a Faucet.—Two persons in this city are lawing over a faucet. The dispute originated about the ownership, and if we are correctly informed could have been settled for one dollar, before the litigation commenced, but the suit has already run up a large bill, and is in a fair way to make the faucet cost somebody about one hundred dollars.

A New Road.—The convicts from the Penitentiary have been at work for some time under a contract from Mr. Anderson, in grading a new road to the summit of Robinson's Hill, south of the city. The work is progressing rapidly, and when completed will be much more accessable than the present route over that mountain.

Positively False.—A cotemporary understands that "the small pox prevails to an alarming extent in Portland." As we stated a few days since, there is not one case of the small-pox in Portland, nor has there been, this season. The health of Portland was never known to be better that at present.

Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society.—There will be a special business meeting of the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society, at the house of Mrs. D. W. Williams, 174 Second street, this morning at 10 o'clock.

Treasure.—The amount of treasure received from the mining regions for the past two days, through the medium of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, reached the sum of $60,000.

No Meeting.—There being but two members of the Common Council present last evening, the usual meeting of the Board was laid over for this week.

Encouraging.—A private letter, dated on the 19th inst., at Auburn, gives a very encouraging report on the Powder river mines. Good diggings have been struck in the hills, water is abundant, and the prospects of the camp are more hopeful than any time since its discovery.

Found.—Were in possession of three papers: viz. a certificate of discharge from the U. S. ship Minnesota, a certificate of character and a discharge from a foreign vessel, the Glenara. The documents were picked up in the street, and can be found at this office, by the owner.

Multnomah Co. 2.—Drill this Friday evening at 7:30 P. M. precisely. W. I. Leonard, Secretary.

Dropsies.—There is no disease in which the PERUVIAN SYRUP has achieved greater wonders than in Dropsy of the abdomen and the limbs, whether occasioned by disease of the liver or of the kidneys. It stimulates the absorbents to take up the effused fluids, increases the urinary and cutaneous secretions, and gives tone to the stomach and intestines, thus removing both cause and consequences in these affections.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26d1m

Strange turn of Affa[illegible] in Southern Cities.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from the South, gives the following account of a novel, though not unnatural social change, which is quietly, but very effectually undermining the sectional prejudices that have been so mischievous in their consequences, in that part of the country:

I learn from the most undoubted sources that in New Orleans, Vicksburg, Memphis, and in smaller places where we have permanent military posts, nothing has become more common than for our soldiers to marry the women of the country. At Memphis, from fifteen to twenty such marriages, occur weekly. Let[illegible] look at this with the light which social science g[illegible]es us. Naturally, men establish and live in soci[illegible]. Whatever may be their occupation—fighting[illegible]ading or farming—they will associate in society[illegible]d the foundation of this is the family relation. [illegible]ere opportunity affords, no great length of time [illegible]ass in which society will not be organized. [illegible] now from two to three years that we have [illegible]ost of the places named, and, as a consequ[illegible] men without wives and women without hus[illegible] unite to form a new society, for the old o[illegible], if not destroyed, greatly disrupted, and [illegible]ithout regard to the fact that formerly they [illegible] bitterly opposed to each other. [illegible]ciety is stronger than armies. It flourishes equally in savage and civilized countries, and it survives the wreck of the proudest empires. Women will not see themselves grow old and always refuse the offers made them; men will make offers to such women as they see longest and most. It may be safely said that, if either were black, and there were no other choice, the result would be the same.—These southern women see no chance of those they preferred ever coming back. They have waited long, and they are sorry for them, but it is no fault of theirs that their friends, the rebels, however fierce and determined they may be, cannot retake their lost cities and countries, and they are not likely ever to see them again. Hence they accept as husbands their conquerers. Some of these marriages may not be sincere, as elsewhere, but the most of them will last with life, and are founded on sincere attachment.

At first widows with large property and no one to attend to it accepted Union husbands, hoping, and with good grounds, to save their wealth. I know of several young men of good qualities, who thus have become rich. I know of one who in a month after marriage sold $50,000 worth of cotton, which the widow for six months had tried to sell in vain. Other ladies, whose fathers and brothers were in the rebel army, and had no homes, married; and now, some with fair means and good homes, and who also are well educated, are proud of a gay officer for a husband. There has always been an idea among the women of the South that Northern men make the best husbands. Whether this is true or not is doubtful, but it is certain that multitudes of our officers have every accomplishment, and are skilled in all the arts that attract women. In the ball-room, the parlor, or at promenade, they are the perfect gentleman; and if the subject of discourse be literature, art or philosophy, or even matters of practical life, they are ready to instruct or amuse.

So long as we continue to possess the country these marriages will increase. There are men enough in the army who might never marry at the North, to furnish husbands to all who want, and yet leave few or none among us disappointed. The novelty of these matches will attract many who did not propose to marry. It is evident from this that in a few years more, the rebel soldiers will be forgotten in the places where they were born, and should they return they will find, beside their houses and lands being occupied by others, that their women have become the wives of their enemies. Every reflecting mind must see that these events will powerfully contribute to destroy prejudice, to produce a common language, and a lasting peace. We may look on this matter with surprise, but history is repeating itself.

A GOLD STRIKE AND A REMINISCENCE.—Lately at Grass Valley there was struck in the shaft of the Rocky Bar Company, used by the Massachusetts Hill Company, a rich gold-bearing quartz ledge, about two feet in width. The existence of a ledge in this ground is said to have been undoubted, but no one supposed that it would be found short of at least forty feet below the old bottom of the Brennan shaft. The Grass Valley National, in this connection, indulges in the following reminiscence and reflection:

This promising ledge, which already shows gold in abundance, is owned by Burton, Leon, Majanon, Hoenisch, Abel Guy, of San Francisco, and Chavanne, of Grass Valley. In connection with this subject comes a peculiarly saddening reflection. It will be remembered that on Sunday, February 21, 1858, a horrible tragedy occurred in Grass Valley, resulting in the death of Michael Brennan, President of the Mount Hope Company, his wife and their three children, the little ones respectively aged four years and one-half, three years and two years. The deaths were caused by poison (prussic acid), administered by Brennan. He, as manager of the Mount Hope Company, had become hopelessly involved pecuniarily, principally, we believe, by sinking the shaft on Massachusetts Hill, in which the ledge was recently found. He left one or more letters, stating that he was hopelessly in debt; that Massachusetts Hill had deceived him; that he could not bear the idea of leaving his wife and children in beggary, hence he would take them with him. Some friends, on entering Brennan's house on the evening of February 21, 1858, found him, Mrs. Brennan and their three children, dead. Brennan was a graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, a man of extensive information, and at one time was of the New York Herald's reportorial corps. Within eighteen inches of where Brennan abandoned work in his shaft, just previous to his committing murder and suicide, the Rocky Bar Company struck the ledge! In fact, had he sunk in one portion of the shaft three inches more, he would have found the ledge and been a wealthy man, instead of filling the grave of a pauper, a murderer and a suicide.

THE INFERNALITIES AT FORT PILLOW—THE NARRATIVE OF A PERSON PRESENT.—The Chicago Tribune of April 21st, contains a lengthy history of the inhuman conduct of the rebels who captured Fort Pillow. One chapter of the history is upon the statements of a participator in the defense of the fort. The Tribune says:

We have [illegible]en and conversed with a gentleman just arrived fr[illegible] there, [illegible] Fort Pillow, a temporary resident part in [illegible], not connected with the army, but who took statement, [illegible] gallant [illegible]fense of the Fort. From his horrors of the [illegible] doubt [illegible] truthful in every respect, the first reports seem [illegible] they were [illegible]en more terrible than by Chalmer's dir[illegible] indic[illegible]. The first assault about five o'clock in the [illegible] of the rebels, commenced children were got into [illegible] morning. The women and safe distance just before it [illegible] at boat and towed to a zens were ordered into the fort [illegible] enced, and the old fence. The defence of the Fort [illegible] assist in its de[illegible]til near two o'clock P. M., during [illegible] maintained un[illegible] three distinct charges were made and [illegible] period of which severe loss to the enemy at each time [illegible] o'clock a flag of truce was sent in with a demand [illegible] the surrender of the fort. Major Booth the commander of the fort, having been killed early in the day, the flag was received by Major Bradford. He replied that he could not give positive answer until he had communicated with gunboat No. 7, which had borne a distinguished part in the defense. He made an attempt to do so, but on account of the loss of his signals, he was unable, and about one hour was exhausted in making the attempt. During the presence of the flag in the fort, and while there should have been a cessation of hostile operations, Forrest quietly and secretly gathered his division in close proximity to the fort, and so protected that it was impossible to reach them effectually with its guns, or in any way to severely damage him. When he had got his men into proper position, he demanded of Major Bradford an immediate response to his demand for a surrender. Major Bradford replied that if he wanted the fort he must come and take it. The assault was immediately made, and was of the most desperate character. The enemy soon gained entrance, and the garrison were at once overpowered. When this took place, our men immediately threw down their arms, and cried out that they surrendered. To this the rebels paid no attention, but commenced an indiscriminate shooting. The men seeing that they were to have no quarter, rushed over the rest of the fort and down the steep precipice, toward the river. The rebels poured down toward the river on each side of the fort in immense numbers, completely hemming in the poor veterans and shooting them as they ran, notwithstanding they continually cried for quarter, and in this way the carnage continued for nearly an hour until out of the 700 men, blacks and whites, who were inside of Fort Pillow at the commencement of the strife, not more than 100 to 150 remained alive—all 600 had fallen victims to the infernal host led by the guerilla chief. While this thing was going on, the fiends continually shouted with demoniac hate and laughed with derisive mirth, continually applying the most opprobrious epithets to their victims. Poor negroes would drop on their knees and plead for mercy, and the demons would shoot them dead, or knock out their brains with the butts of their muskets. In the slaughter there was no discrimination —white and black were served alike. Whenever a Union soldier could be reached, wounded or not, be was immediately slaughtered in cold blood. Our informant only escaped by walking up to a rebel officer, while his men were pouring a volley into a small band of Federal soldiers, who had crowded together in a corner, and insisted that he was a citizen, and demanding to be treated as a prisoner. Five or six poor wounded fellows were discovered by the demons, laying behind a log, where they had been carried by their comrades, and a white flag placed above them, and they rushed up and shot each one of them dead. Many negroes jumped into the river to escape and were shot dead.

After the fort had been in possession of the rebels for some time, and our flag hauled down, the rebels again hoisted it, in order to influence the demons to continue the work of slaughter, under the impression that the garrison had not surrendered.

Our informant states that when he had surrendered as mentioned above, the officer first demanded his money, then his boots, then his shirt, and finally took about all the clothes he had on. Next to killing, robbery seems to be the first impulse of the rebels. He says he is cognizant of the fact of the crucifixion of Lieut. Ackerstrong. As is related, he was taken while wounded, but yet alive, nailed against a building, and the building set fire. The demons looked on and saw him thus consumed, continually shouting and laughing at the horrid spectacle. The body of Lieut. A was afterwards seen still nailed to the charred plank, completely burned to a crisp.

Major Bradford, who was in command of the fort, after the death of Major Booth, was wounded and taken prisoner. He was afterward taken into the woods, a short distance from the fort, and hung. Of this there is no doubt. The information of our informant is positive. He is also confident that every negro that was in the fort, whether belonging to the army or not, and every white officer in command of negro troops, has been sacrificed, either by being shot or hung, after being taken prisoner, with perhaps the exception of ten or a dozen who made their escape, and Forrest, himself, and all of his officers, boldly asserted that that would be the fate of every prisoner in their possession.

The statement is confirmed that many of our wounded soldiers were buried alive by the ruffians. Trenches were dug and the poor victims thrown in, without determining whether they were dead or alive. Many of them were dug out of their graves and are now alive.

The next day after the massacre, our informant, in company with another citizen, went to the house of a planter, distant a mile or two from the fort, for the purpose of obtaining food. While there he was informed by the planter, himself a secessionist, that Forrest stayed at his house the night before, and informed him that his men had already buried three hundred and sixty negroes, and that the last one in the fort would be buried before they left. As there was only four hundred negroes in the fort, there could be but few survivors to this the most fiendish butchery that ever disgraced the world.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

OR PROTECTED

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Scurvy, the prostrating effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN; and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M. D.,

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery, was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1856, page 76.)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color, hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutricious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.
